

BY M. McDOUGALL

The people of Canada have subscribed in full for Canada's Second War Loan of $300,000,000. After some delay the small investor came more readily into the picture. It is felt by observers here that the people are beginning to realize more and more clearly that the financial support of even the person of most modest means must be placed at the back of the government. The future may be clouded but there is no clouding of the issue at stake in the conflict. It is an issue between freedom and slavery.

Either in the middle or towards the end of October, the government is expected to make further announcements of its wheat policy. The increased quota of eight bushels of wheat in-

SO LONG AS BRITAIN STANDS

SO LONG AS Great Britain remains unconquered hope remains for a real peace which will release Europe—including the German people—from the prison of totalitarian terror.

While Britain stands France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Norway, Denmark, Poland, Czechoslovakia are only temporarily slaves.
 While Britain stands there is hope for a genuine "new order" under which some sort of self governing federation will preserve the liberties of small nations.

While Britain stands there is a chance to stop the trend toward utter lawlessness and anarchy which today spreads the threat of robbery by violence round the world.

While Britain stands there is hope that the ideals of Christianity, liberty, justice, enlightenment and tolerance will have free opportunity to develop. While Britain stands pogrom, despotism, injustice, ignorance and calculated intolerance will not have official sanction by the dominant governmental power of Europe.

While Britain stands Japan, Russia and Italy recognize some restraints.

While Britain stands the Monroe Doctrine can hardly be seriously menaced.

While Britain stands Totalitarian trade cannot corral the markets of the globe.

While Britain stands the United States is not a democratic island in a world dominated by dictatorships.

While Britain stands the oceans are barriers to, rather than highways for, aggressors.

While Britain stands "fifth columnists" in America remain merely sizzling plotters, lacking great military or economic support.

While Britain stands America can spend time on building a two ocean navy.

While Britain stands there is time to debate preparedness in the United States.

While Britain stands those who fail to read the lessons of history can say she is fighting only her own battle.—Christian Science Monitor.

MAN'S INVENTIVE GENIUS MAKES WINE FROM MILK

MANY PEOPLE interested in the welfare of agriculture, have been disturbed by the drinking of wine, spirits, and beer, feeling that it tended to decrease the use of dairy products. In short, people who drank wine would be less likely to drink milk.

Now the chemists are making wine from milk. It is produced from whey, much of which is now wasted.

Chemists have been trying for a long time to devise new products to be made from whey.

Clothing is already achieved, and now, more or less by accident, they have stumbled on the fact that a sort of wine may also be made from it.

"This jumbles everything up a farm, for milk is even more directly a farm product than the grapes that go into alcoholic drinks at present."

With steering wheels made out of beans, stockings made out of coal, sweaters from milk, sugarless meat from sea water, and now wine from whey, nobody is going to know the source of what he consumes unless he keeps close by him a textbook on higher chemistry.—The Albertan.

PLANS FOR THE WORLD'S FUTURE

LAST SATURDAY, in London, Vincent Sheehan discovered Julian Luxton and the Archbishop of York and some others, who had been brought together by chance in an air raid dugout, somewhere behind Downing St., discussing the economic replanning of Europe in the muffled noise of the bombs. A great many people in Britain are discussing this very earnestly, now that they begin to breathe in the feeling of certainty that they will presently stop Hitler from his kind of economic reorganization.

"To set our hearts only on Britain defeating Germany is to court spiritual as well as military disaster," says Kingsley Martin in the New Statesman.

It is a healthy sign, that even now in the midst of all the horrors of bombing, men can in a dugout plan for the future.

However in that planning must be heard the voice not alone of the "higher-ups" but the voice and welfare of the "man in the street"; of the refugees torn from their homes because they would not submit to the tyranny.

W. M. Davidson writes in the Albertan—

"Scipio," the author of a new book, "A 100,000,000 Allies—If We Choose," thinks that one hundred million allies for Britain in all those Europeans who have not in their hearts accepted the philosophy of the Nazis under the domination of Hitler. The more vocal of these languages in Nazi concentration camps; other tens of thousands resisted and will continue to resist in Czechoslovakia, Poland, Belgium, Holland, Norway, France and Spain—in Spain there are at the moment something like a million political prisoners who France has not yet had enough time, ammunition, executioners, or during to shoot.

THE ALASKA HIGHWAY

IT IS INTERESTING to note that the States to the south of us have become so tired of waiting for Alberta and British Columbia to improve their own highways, that they—the States—have now come to us with suggestions and with capital to invest in them.

They are, obviously, and admittedly interested for a two fold reason—the issue of American territory and Tourist Trade.

Since the State of Montana spent nearly $75,000,000 in improving their highways and now come to us with a money backed proposal. It is evident to even the most prejudiced that they have profited by their expenditure and expect to profit by this. Surely it is evident, in that case, that if they in Montana can profit from the tour late on a feeder line, we in Alberta can reap a harvest in the final stomp ground.

It is to be hoped, therefore, that Mr. Folmer, who is in contact with the American representatives this week, will make every possible effort to bring the highway through Alberta. The Provincial highway, already established, would fit right into the Twelve members and two visitors were present at the W. I. meeting at Mrs Harriman's on Thursday, Sept. 19 which was a good turnout in view of the fact that the threatening season is in full swing. Mrs Harriman displayed two quilts which were put together by her mother who is over 80 years of age. One was a Log Cabin quilt and the tiny pieces were put together by hand. The other was an Art quilt made on Thursday, October 3rd. The second refugee quilt will be tied at this meeting. See report under heading, Women's Institute.

The myriads of ducks which were rapidly demolishing wheat in the stacks, disappeared as suddenly as they came and this week various parties of disgruntled hunters have been vainly trying to find enough to fill their hunting bags. One time during the late war, Gen. Percy was visiting the front line trenches at night. A young officer was detailed to show him around. As the officer crept cautiously up to the general, he said in a hoarse whisper: "This is the second line trench."

"The general, deeply impressed, replied in a voice equally low: "Ah, the second line trench."

The officer lowered his voice still more and said: "And this is the communicating trench."

"Ah, yes, the communicating trench." "And this is the front line trench."

"Ah, yes, the front line trench. How far away are the Germans?" "About two miles."

"Then what the hell is all the secrecy about?" "I've got a cold."

Since Canada signed the mutual defense pact with the U. S. there has been considerable interest aroused in this question by the States and it has even been suggested, by some, that the U. Mahatma Gandhi To Cooperate with Britain During War

Bombay—The All-India Congress Committee approved a resolution by Mahatma K. Gandhi pledging itself not to initiate any action which would embarrass Britain in the prosecution of the war.
The resolution was predicated on the condition that the Party's tolerance should not be used as a stepping stone to its "political extinction."
By adoption of the measure without amendment the Committee tacitly accepted Mr. Gandhi's leadership again without question.

INVESTIGATION CLEARS
Due to complaints being made of the non arrival of cigarettes and tobacco packages sent to soldiers of the C A S F Overseas from Canada, Postmaster General William P. Mulock instituted an immediate investigation of a series of individual cases. The report received today reveals that in no single instance was the alleged loss or delay occasioned through any fault of the Post Office Department, in the cases where the investigations have been completed.
